Dear Friends,

I would like to highly recommend the services of GuideOne Taylor Ball. Our church suffered a fire last Christmas Eve. We chose as a church to use Taylor Ball for the reconstruction. Eric Johnson and Gene Berthiaume were our project managers. They have been extremely "Church-friendly," being sensitive to our church's needs. We felt they were always looking out for our interest.

The staff of Taylor Ball were true to their word and took care of the construction details for us. We were out no money in the construction. Their people took care paying the sub-contractors. They bent over backwards to make us happy. The construction was done in a competent and timely manner. By the end of the process, we considered them members of our church family.

I highly recommend their services.

Darryl Smith
