To Whom It May Concern:

I consider it a privilege to be able to write to you and give my highest recommendation and letter of reference for Mr. Doug Wilson of Guide One/Taylor Ball Construction Services. I came to know Doug as he was assigned by Guide One to oversee the repairs to my two churches in southeast Texas after Hurricane Rita. Both of the United Methodist Churches in Kountze and Warren Texas sustained considerable damage in the hurricane as well as our parsonage.

Our congregations feel like we owe Doug a great debt for the fine job he did in obtaining and overseeing workers who did our repairs. Several times each week, Doug would come to make sure the work was being done properly. If it wasn't, he would see to it that it was redone right. Because we came to know that we could count on Doug, members of our Trustees and myself were "freed" from constantly having to be present when work was being done. Doug was efficient and firm, yet it was clear that he was also liked and well-respected by those who worked for him. In this time of our tragedy, when many other churches were having multiple problems with insurance companies and repair workers, Doug made this process so much less stressful for us.

In addition, as I got to know Doug better, I came to discover that I had made a new friend that I will treasure for a lifetime. He has a love and care for people that comes through from the moment you first meet him. He is the best "PR" man Guide One could ever hope to have! Because of the quick recovery he led for our churches, many other churches in our area now want to try to get their insurance with Guide One. If you need further reference information, please call me at 409/246-3250. In my business as a pastor, I would simply close by saying to Doug, "Well done thy good and faithful servant!"

Yours in Christ,

Bill Jobe
